

2nd SEA-Teacher-TVET Lecture Series: “Innovative Teacher Education in the New Normal”

During pandemic time there were various webinars conducted for e-Learning and one of this which proved to be useful in my professional development is this webinar on “ Innovative Teacher education in the New Normal “. As an instructor of Technical Education and Skills Development Authority,I need to enhance myself in teaching my students with various strategies in online teaching. I have learned a lot from the 15series of lecturers discussing different topics on how to conduct online teaching. The lectures were complete from defining the new normal talking about blended up to using facebook and what’s app as tools in the delivery of eLearning. As of now I’m using facebook as my tool but only on the using the group chat and messenger to follow up my students. Only this time in this webinar that I learned that can also use the social group in facebook as one tool in my classroom management. There were also other applications that were presented by the lecturers that I’m not aware of. But this time I learned it and these were explained fully I’m now excited to navigate these one by one. Indeed, the webinar was very useful.

Here are some of the pics that I got from the webinar:
