I have been teaching at Senior High School at Sakado, University of Tsukuba (UTSS), which is one of the laboratory schools of the University of Tsukuba. I have engaged in the Super Global High School (SGH) program development which was supported by the MEXT since 2014. As a leading school of international education, UTSS has hosted the High School Students' International ESD symposium since 2012.

I and Mr. Yoshida worked for two years in a national park in West Java, Indonesia. We developed a program for Japanese and Indonesian high school students to work together to conserve forests.

I am currently researching how high school students are transformed by their experience of overseas program from a qualitative approach.
