Senior Lecturer

School of Engineering, Computer and Mathematical Sciences

Auckland University of Technology

New Zealand

In this workshop, we will talk about what Artificial Intelligence is, and its impact on the future of work and education. At the end of the session, students will have the chance to take part in some practical activities that demonstrate examples of machine learning and artificial intelligence applications. There is no previous knowledge required for this session.

Note for Participants: It would be useful for the participants to have mobile devices ready for some practical demonstrations.
